Has A Nice Ring To It

Joy Sherwood

"I'm Joy Sherwood, originally Joy Schepers from Schepers Jewelers. I was raised in St. Cloud, Minnesota, born here and lived here all my life. My grandpa, Emmett Schepers, started the business in 1950, and then my dad took it over in 1973.

What led me to the decision of closing Schepers Jewelers was my dad died two and a half years ago, and I was the main person working with him. After he died, my brother and I ran the business but after some long deliberations, I decided that being married to the business wasn't something I wanted to do for the rest of my life. I decided to do a going out of business sale and change directions.

I saw Wilkerson's ads in INSTORE magazine a few times, and went on their website a few times. I did a little research on them and read some testimonials. Once it got down to the wire, I needed to decide. I called them and it seemed like the right fit.

Wilkerson exceeded my expectations. I knew that I didn't have to deal with any other marketing aspects of the sale or the inventory which can take up a lot of time and be a headache. This removed a lot of stress and allowed me to focus on the customers and everything behind the scenes of running the business.

The on-site consultants were great to work with. It was a husband and wife, and because we're so small it was nice to have both here to make sure everything was running smoothly. They kept me very informed of numbers in relation to the goals we wanted to meet in sales and there were no surprises.

I would recommend Wilkerson to another owner because they have the experience. A going out of business sale can be an emotional rollercoaster ride and it's great to have someone who does this for a living, and can be there by your side to help you with any questions or concerns you have."
